Highlights of the month

- The ASPI and S&P SL 20 increased by 4.91% and 7.77% respectively, for the month of February 2026.
- Net foreign outflows for the month amounted to LKR 9.36 Bn, an increased outflow from the prior period.
- The market witnessed a decrease in turnover for the period compared to the prior period.

 Investment strategy: AIA Sri Lanka maintains a prudent investment strategy for its investment portfolios, in line with its investment philosophy and guidelines as set out in the investment policy. The Company advocates a long-term investment strategy supporting long-term growth. The equity strategy is driven by in-depth research with emphasis on growth and sustainability of earnings whilst principles such as liquidity, solvency and corporate governance also play a significant role in stock selection.

Fixed income outlook

- As there was no monetary policy review during the month of February, the Central Bank maintained the overnight policy rate (OPR) at 7.75%. Accordingly, the standing lending facility rate (the rate at which the CBSL lends to commercial banks) remained at 8.25%, while the standing deposit facility rate (the rate at which commercial banks place excess funds with the CBSL) stood at 7.25%.
- During the month, treasury bill yields declined across all three tenors. The 364-day treasury bill recorded the smallest decline, falling by 12 basis points to 8.24%. At the shorter end of the curve, the 91-day treasury bill declined by 21 basis points, while the 183-day treasury bill recorded the largest decline, falling by 34 basis points during the month of February.
- The foreign holdings of LKR-denominated government securities increased by 11.38% during February. Total foreign purchases during the year amounted to LKR 21.8 billion, raising foreign holdings to 0.87% of total outstanding holdings from 0.78% in the preceding month. Purchases during the month alone amounted to LKR 16.6 billion.
- The average weighted prime lending rate (AWPR) increased by 47 basis points, bringing it to 9.35% by the end of February.
- The Colombo consumer price Index (CCPI) recorded year-on-year inflation of 1.6% in February 2026, marking a decline from 2.3% in January 2026. This moderation was primarily driven by a sharp slowdown in food inflation to 0.2%, compared with 3.3% in the previous month. Meanwhile, non-food inflation accelerated to 2.3% in February from 1.8% in January, reaching its highest level since July 2024, mainly due to increases in electricity, housing rent, and LP gas prices.

Equity outlook

- During the month of February 2026, the Colombo stock exchange (CSE) recorded a marginal decline of 0.33%, while the S&P Sri Lanka 20 Index (S&P SL20) delivered a modest drop of 0.08%. The main driver for the downward movement was the diversified financials sector, followed by the retail sector. The counters that contributed the most toward the downward movement was Sri Lanka Telecom; followed by Carsons Cumberbatch and Singer Sri Lanka.
- Investor participation softened over the period, with average daily turnover contracting by 21% to LKR 5.6 billion, reflecting a more cautious sentiment among market participants. Foreigners were net sellers of Sri Lankan equities with net foreign outflow of LKR 9.35 billion during the month of February bringing the cumulative net outflow to 16.14 billion for the year.
- The market's price-to-earnings (P/E) increased to 11.66 in February from 11.30 in the preceding month.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Where are AIA Unit Linked Funds invested?

The Unit Linked funds are invested in instruments specified in the policy documents i.e. government securities, debt securities and money market investments such as fixed deposits, etc, and in shares listed on the Colombo Stock Exchange. These investments are made within the parameters provided in the policy documents, in order to achieve the investment objective of each fund.

- Equities: Investment in shares listed on the Colombo Stock Exchange.
- Debt Securities: Investments in Treasury instruments, Corporate Debt instruments, repurchase agreements of Treasury instruments and Corporate Debt instruments of longer maturity tenor than those classified as Money Market investments.
- Money Market investments: Funds held as Corporate Debt instruments, overnight repurchase agreements of Treasury instruments, Corporate Debt instruments with a tenor of one day, investments in Treasury instruments and cash in bank current accounts.

Treasury instruments refers to instruments such as Treasury Bills and Treasury Bonds issued by the government of Sri Lanka. Corporate debt refers to debt instruments issued by financial institutions and companies.

How does AIA manage Unit Linked funds?

AIA maintains a prudent investment strategy for its investment portfolios, in line with its investment philosophy and guidelines, as set out in the Company's investment policy. The investments of each fund are carried out in line with the investment objectives of the respective fund. The Company advocates a long-term investment strategy supporting long-term growth. The equity strategy is driven by in-depth research with emphasis on growth and sustainability of earnings whilst principles such as liquidity, solvency and corporate governance also play a significant role in stock selection.

Why do unit prices of the Growth & Balanced Funds fluctuate in comparison to the other Unit Linked Funds?

The prices of all unit linked funds move in tandem with the price movements or market values of their underlying investments. The Growth & Balanced funds invest in shares listed on the Colombo Stock Exchange. As prices of shares can be volatile at times, the unit prices of Growth & Balanced funds too can move higher or lower in tandem with these movements in share prices.

Is the All Share Price Index (ASPI) or S&P20 movement comparable with AIA Growth & Balanced Funds Performance?

The Growth and Balance fund performance may differ from the performances of the ASPI and the S&P SL 20 stock indices due to the fund portfolios holding different stocks and different proportions of stocks when compared to those used in the computation of the indices. The ASPI measures the movement of share prices of all listed companies on the Colombo Stock Exchange based on market capitalization and the S&P SL 20 measures the movement of share prices of 20 of the leading companies selected and rebased on certain criteria including market capitalisation.

▪ What are the Investment Strategies mentioned in the Policy Document* ?

Depending on the policy you have purchased, at the date of commencement the policy owner selects the investment strategy out of the four available; namely Aggressive, Moderate, Cautious and Advanced. Aggressive, Moderate and Cautious strategies have their funds allocated and switched at predetermined milestones depending on the policy term. Policy owners can switch fund strategies on written request during the policy period subject to conditions. Policy owners with Advanced investment strategy are responsible for determining the allocation and switching throughout the lifetime of the policy.

▪ What are Unit switches and amendment of Regular Premium Allocation Proportions?

Depending on the policy you have purchased, your Investment Linked Long Term Insurance Policy allows you to be in control of your investments. Options such as Unit switches* and amendment of Regular Premium Allocation Proportions* may be available to you, so that you have total control over your long term investment.

- Unit switches: If you request to switch units from one unit linked fund to another, the Company will cancel units of equal amount from the fund from which the units are to be switched from at the Unit price of that fund prevailing on the day and after deduction of switching charge, if any, and the funds so generated will be used to create units in the fund in which the amount is to be switched to at the Unit price of that fund prevailing on the day. Note that the unit switches are not permitted into or out of the Protected Fund and Stable Money Market Fund.
- Amendment of Regular Premium Allocation Proportions: At the written request of the Policy Owner, the Company will amend the Allocation Proportion whereafter the previous Allocation Proportion will become ineffective, and the amended Allocation Proportion will be applicable to all future Basic Premiums received from the date of the Company's acceptance of the request. Note that the amendment of allocation proportions is not permitted into or out of the Stable Money Market Fund.

▪ How often can Unit switches and Amendment of Allocation Proportions be executed?

- There is no limitation on frequency of Unit switches*
- The Company will only allow two (2) requests for Amendment of the Allocation Proportion within any Policy Year*
- The relevant applicable charges will be applied as stipulated in the Policy Document
