Highlights of the month

- Market witnessed a decline in March where the ASPI and S&P SL 20 dropped by 4.7 per cent and 3.9 per cent respectively. However, on an year to date basis, ASPI and S&P SL 20 have provided a return of 5.1 per cent and 8.0 per cent respectively.
- Foreign selling persisted in March as well. The year to date net sales by foreigners amounted to LKR 17.7 billion by end March 2021.

Investment strategy: AIA Sri Lanka maintains a prudent investment strategy for its investment portfolios, in line with its investment philosophy and guidelines as set out in the investment policy. The Company advocates a long-term investment strategy supporting long-term growth. The equity strategy is driven by in-depth research with emphasis on growth and sustainability of earnings whilst principles such as liquidity, solvency and corporate governance also play a significant role in stock selection.

Fixed income outlook

- The cap rate of the benchmark 364 – day Treasury bill rate was increased to 5.15% during the first auction in April 2021, despite accepting only LKR 200 million from the offered amount. The secondary market rates of Treasury bonds continued to increase gradually during March 2021, mainly as a result of liquidity levels declining to LKR 102 billion during the month (from LKR 180 billion at the beginning of March 2021). The Central bank holding of Government securities continued to increase during March 2021.
- Rising commodity prices and pickup in economic activity levels coupled with pressure exerted on the exchange rate may lead to higher inflation and interest rates towards the fourth quarter 2021.

Equity outlook

- All Share Price Index and S&P SL 20 Index continued to decline during the March 2021. Profit taking, skepticism and negative market sentiments which also led up to the events circulating around the UNHRC vote on Sri Lanka in late March may have been the main reasons for the continued dip in the two indices.
- Due to the continued weak macroeconomic outlook and expectations of rising interest rates during the latter half of 2021, we continue to take a conservative approach towards the equity market investment.
