Highlights of the month

- The ASPI and S&P SL20 slightly increased for the month of March 2023 by 1.2% and -4.07% respectively.
- Net foreign flows for the month amounted to LKR 2.591 Bn of outflows, a decrease from the prior period.
- The market has witnessed increased turnover for the period compared to the prior period.

 Investment strategy: AIA Sri Lanka maintains a prudent investment strategy for its investment portfolios, in line with its investment philosophy and guidelines as set out in the investment policy. The Company advocates a long-term investment strategy supporting long-term growth. The equity strategy is driven by in-depth research with emphasis on growth and sustainability of earnings whilst principles such as liquidity, solvency and corporate governance also play a significant role in stock selection.

Fixed income outlook

- Following the IMF board level approval for an Extended Fund Facility (EFF), interest rates witnessed a steep decline across the yield curve. The benchmark 364-Day Treasury bill rate decreased to 22.37% at the first Treasury bill auction held in April 2023, which is a reduction of in excess of 500 basis points compared to the rates prevailed in early March 2023. The medium-term Treasury bonds declined by around 300 basis points during the month.
- Overall market liquidity levels hovered around negative LKR 200 billion, while the CBSL holding stood at LKR 2.68 trillion as at 3rd April 2023. During the first quarter of 2023, the Sri Lankan Rupee experienced an appreciation of 10.95% against the USD.
- CBSL in their presentation to investors indicated the importance of restructuring of external debt alongside optimization of domestic debt to achieve the key targets set by IMF. As a result, we expect a certain premium on Treasury bonds to be embedded in market yields on the backdrop of uncertainties surrounding a possible restructuring of Domestic debt.

Equity outlook

- The two main indices of Colombo Stock Exchange depicted mix results during the month of March 2023, where All Share Price Index (ASPI) gained 1.23% while the S&P SL 20 index declined by 4.07%. With the IMF board level approval for the EFF, stock market witnessed renewed interest on the banking sector. Foreign investors were net sellers in March 2023 mainly as a result of profit taking by foreigners and the improvement in USD liquidity in the financial system, which may have prompted certain investors to repatriate funds.
- We expect the prevailing tight monetary and fiscal policies to pose continuous challenges to corporate earnings in FY 2023. Therefore, we expect the stock market to be range bound through 2Q 2023. However, if the overall macroeconomic conditions improve towards the second half of 2023.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

■ Where are AIA Unit Linked Funds invested?

The Unit Linked funds are invested in instruments specified in the policy documents i.e. government securities, debt securities and money market investments such as fixed deposits, etc, and in shares listed on the Colombo Stock Exchange. These investments are made within the parameters provided in the policy documents, in order to achieve the investment objective of each fund.

- Equities: Investment in shares listed on the Colombo Stock Exchange.
- Debt Securities: Investments in Treasury instruments, Corporate Debt instruments, repurchase agreements of Treasury instruments and Corporate Debt instruments of longer maturity tenor than those classified as Money Market investments.
- Money Market investments: Funds held as Corporate Debt instruments, overnight repurchase agreements of Treasury instruments, Corporate Debt instruments with a tenor of one day, investments in Treasury instruments and cash in bank current accounts.

Treasury instruments refers to instruments such as Treasury Bills and Treasury Bonds issued by the government of Sri Lanka. Corporate debt refers to debt instruments issued by financial institutions and companies.

■ How does AIA manage Unit Linked funds?

AIA maintains a prudent investment strategy for its investment portfolios, in line with its investment philosophy and guidelines, as set out in the Company's investment policy. The investments of each fund are carried out in line with the investment objectives of the respective fund. The Company advocates a long-term investment strategy supporting long-term growth. The equity strategy is driven by in-depth research with emphasis on growth and sustainability of earnings whilst principles such as liquidity, solvency and corporate governance also play a significant role in stock selection.

■ Why do unit prices of the Growth & Balanced Funds fluctuate in comparison to the other Unit Linked Funds?

The prices of all unit linked funds move in tandem with the price movements or market values of their underlying investments. The Growth & Balanced funds invest in shares listed on the Colombo Stock Exchange. As prices of shares can be volatile at times, the unit prices of Growth & Balanced funds too can move higher or lower in tandem with these movements in share prices.

■ Is the All Share Price Index (ASPI) or S&P20 movement comparable with AIA Growth & Balanced Funds Performance?

The Growth and Balance fund performance may differ from the performances of the ASPI and the S&P SL 20 stock indices due to the fund portfolios holding different stocks and different proportions of stocks when compared to those used in the computation of the indices. The ASPI measures the movement of share prices of all listed companies on the Colombo Stock Exchange based on market capitalization and the S&P SL 20 measures the movement of share prices of 20 of the leading companies selected and rebased on certain criteria including market capitalisation.

■ What are the Investment Strategies mentioned in the Policy Document* ?

Depending on the policy you have purchased, at the date of commencement the policy owner selects the investment strategy out of the four available; namely Aggressive, Moderate, Cautious and Advanced. Aggressive, Moderate and Cautious strategies have their funds allocated and switched at predetermined milestones depending on the policy term. Policy owners can switch fund strategies on written request during the policy period subject to conditions. Policy owners with Advanced investment strategy are responsible for determining the allocation and switching throughout the lifetime of the policy.

■ What are Unit switches and amendment of Regular Premium Allocation Proportions?

Depending on the policy you have purchased, your Investment Linked Long Term Insurance Policy allows you to be in control of your investments. Options such as Unit switches* and amendment of Regular Premium Allocation Proportions* may be available to you, so that you have total control over your long term investment.

- Unit switches: If you request to switch units from one unit linked fund to another, the Company will cancel units of equal amount from the fund from which the units are to be switched from at the Unit price of that fund prevailing on the day and after deduction of switching charge, if any, and the funds so generated will be used to create units in the fund in which the amount is to be switched to at the Unit price of that fund prevailing on the day. Note that the unit switches are not permitted into or out of the Protected Fund and Stable Money Market Fund.
- Amendment of Regular Premium Allocation Proportions: At the written request of the Policy Owner, the Company will amend the Allocation Proportion whereafter the previous Allocation Proportion will become ineffective, and the amended Allocation Proportion will be applicable to all future Basic Premiums received from the date of the Company's acceptance of the request. Note that the amendment of allocation proportions is not permitted into or out of the Stable Money Market Fund.

■ How often can Unit switches and Amendment of Allocation Proportions be executed?

- There is no limitation on frequency of Unit switches*
- The Company will only allow two (2) requests for Amendment of the Allocation Proportion within any Policy Year*
- The relevant applicable charges will be applied as stipulated in the Policy Document
